WILL SPEAK
FOR HAWAIIA Shriner Tells of
His Good
Time.SURPRISED AT
THE ISLANDSThe Visitors Draw Near Territory
Nearer to Rest of the United States.

"The pilgrimage of the Shriners to Honolulu will materially help to bring the Hawaiian Islands and the rest of the United States and Territories closer together," said W. A. Whitman, a Mystic from South Arm, Michigan, to an Advertiser reporter yesterday.

"People who have never been to these Islands cannot realize their importance, their beauty and attractiveness, their condition or their possibilities. I, for one, am willing to confess that I was surprised beyond expression upon my arrival here to find so large and busy a city, such an intelligent and refined native population, so many modern improvements (I am not referring to your mule cars), and such magnificent natural advantages.

"One of the things which have struck me most forcibly here is the fact that, whether you drop in at the mansions of the rich or the homes of the poor, all the people you meet are ladies and gentlemen. You do not seem to be possessed, to any appreciable extent, with what we comprehensively term the lower classes, in cities on the Mainland. I consider the natives a splendid race of people, and I have had occasion to meet many noble examples of the fact during my brief stay in Honolulu.

"We Shriners are from all over the United States. When we go to our homes and tell our friends of the delights and advantages of Hawaii, and they, in turn, tell all their friends, and so on, and so on, Hawaii will have undoubtedly received a benefit. There is no better way in which the Islands could have become known to the people on the Mainland. The more known the Islands on the Mainland, the nearer the Islands and the rest of the United States and Territories will be brought to each other.

"I know of no more delightful place in the world than Honolulu in which to make one's home. Thousands of people will flock here within the next few years as the result of what they will hear of the place from those who have already visited the Paradise of the Pacific.

"One thing which the coming of the Shriners to Hawaii will help to accomplish, will be to change the opinions of many people on the Mainland who were and still are opposed to annexation. When they hear from the lips of their friends the facts concerning the Hawaiian Islands, they will see annexation in a new light, and will be glad that Hawaii is a Territory, and a promising and prosperous Territory of the United States.

"You treat visitors here with the greatest possible consideration, and they will never forget the charm of the Islands. They go back to their homes and do more good for Hawaii than all the newspaper advertising could ever accomplish.

"I was down at the wharf with my wife, today, when the Mariposa sailed for San Francisco. We never before witnessed so pretty and impressive a scene as that of the going away of the steamship with a large number of Honoluluans and visitors abroad.

"The music of the band and the lovely custom of giving wreaths of flowers, leis, I believe you call them here, together with the general importance which seems to be attached to the departure of a steamship, impressed us very deeply, and left in our minds a memory which will never fade.

"We have visited the palace, the grandest sight of all; we have visited Moa-nalu; we have dipped in the Waikiki waters; we have experienced the comforts of the Moana Hotel, and we have made it a point to take in all the sights of your city.

"A party of us went down to the Ewa sugar plantation. We followed the manacure of sugar from the beginning to the end. We saw, in places, the unbroken ground; we saw the land made ready to receive the young cane; we saw the young cane growing; we saw it at its full growth; we saw the laborers cutting the cane; we saw the cane taken to the mill; we saw it ground; we saw it boiled, and we saw it shoveled into bags and shipped.

"We went down the railway line and stopped at the Waialua Hotel. That is a charming place, if there ever was one. You have an excellent railway service, better by far than we had expected.

"In the lumber business in Michigan, and was very much surprised, in talking with a lumber man here, to find that lumber is as reasonable in price as it is. I cannot explain it.

"Tomorrow we return to San Francisco on the Zealandia. It shall always be our hope to someday return to Honolulu. To enter once into the Paradise of the Pacific is to always want to come again."

REBEKAH'S DANCE
A HAPPY EVENT

Over Two Hundred Guests Celebrate the Thirtieth Anniversary.

The thirtieth anniversary of the Pacific Rebekah Lodge last night at Progress Hall was a very enjoyable affair. Over two hundred invited guests mingled in the merriment of the dance to the music of a native quintet, and it was after midnight when the program ended with a farewell medley.

Under the skillful hands of the ladies the hall had been beautifully decorated. Long palm leaves screened the stage whereon were seated the musicians, and over the windows and doors, and from the ceiling, hung masses of greens and gorgeous tropical flowers. The alcove in the mauka-Waikiki corner of the hall had been transformed into a bower of evergreens, and the dancers found within a refreshing supply of iced lemonade. The promenade lanai was artistically arranged with potted plants and greens, and fitted with chairs. In this delightful retreat, those who tired of dancing chatted and enjoyed the cool outside air.

At 10:30 o'clock a dainty collation of ice cream and cakes was served, the ladies of the lodge passing the trays about among their guests.

Many pretty dresses were worn, and the circular hall, gayly decorated and filled with whirling forms, presented a very festive appearance. The committee in charge of the affair are deserving of credit for the manner in which the pleasant little affair was conducted. Everything was charmingly arranged, and the dance was one of the happiest social events of the season.

The floor committee consisted of Albin F. Clark, Henry H. Williams and Henry Gorman. The ladies of the reception committee were Sisters Sallie L. Williams, Mariah Smith and Ellen R. Clark.

The committee on entertainment was composed of the following five ladies: Sisters Clara Petrie, Mary Saxton, L. Nicholson, Jennie Murray and Louisa Dee.

DERELICT DOGS
SENT HOME

Thirty Victims of the Catcher Perished in the Pound Yesterday.

Thirty-odd dogs of doubtful lineage for the most part were sent to the place where all dogs go to, yesterday afternoon.

They were tramp dogs, nearly all of them, the kind one sees prowling about the streets late at night or slinking into the cover of lumber piles the time cocks are crowing.

The canines were gathered in by the official dog-catcher last Monday. The period within which dog tax may be paid without penalty expires about this time. Dog taxes are payable at the beginning of the year. The dog-catcher may legally catch dogs at any time, which do not bear on their collars a tag for the current year's tax.

Yesterday afternoon many owners of lost dogs appeared at the police station and made enquiries about their missing pets. They were referred to the dog pound at Iwilei, and if they got there by 4 o'clock execution was delayed, and a chance of redemption granted.

In the pound many breeds were represented, from a tiny terrier to a part mastiff. Some were pups and others old, decrepit doggies who couldn't run fast enough to escape the catcher's snare. Here and there a dog of breeding waited impatiently for the voice he knew so well, but the majority of the condemned were the nondescript curs who seem to thrive so amazingly in Honolulu. One was a pink beast with slate-colored spots which could doubtless have earned an honest living with a circus.

Soon after 4 o'clock the killing commenced. A 22-calibre rifle was placed near the dogs' ear, a tiny crack followed and the beast was dragged to one side by its tail. The slaughter was humanely and expeditiously conducted and the animals died an apparently painless death.
